

Correspondence Courses

Students are able to make up credit through correspondence courses through other colleges/universities. Correspondence courses require motivation and discipline, since the student works independently on the course material. Peer tutoring is available through Notre Dame upon request, as well as working with a faculty member. Please speak to your counselor for more information.